RECORD BUDGET PROPOSED BY KENNEDY

Final Effort To Be Made In Dock Strike

JFK To Ask Action By Congress If Negotiations Fail

NEW YORK (AP)—A board of labor relations experts appointed by President Kennedy goes into emergency session here today in a last-ditch effort to settle the Atlantic and Gulf coasts dock strike.

Kennedy said in appointing the board that the 26-day-old strike is "doing intolerable injury to the national welfare" and disrupting vital commerce in the Free World.

Kennedy indicated that if the board's efforts failed, he would ask Congress to force an end to the strike of 60,000 longshoremen that has crippled shipping in ports from Maine to Texas.

The head of the board, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., told newsmen:

"I have never seen a labor case that could not be settled by good-faith negotiations between the party litigants."

Thomas Gleason, executive vice president and chief negotiator for the striking AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association, said union representatives were ready to meet with the board today.

Alexander Chopin, chief industry negotiator, said he had "nothing to say at this time."

Chopin is head of the New York Shipping Association, which represents 145 shipping and stevedoring companies. Contract terms reached here between the ILA and the association traditionally set a pattern for settlements in other ports on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

Kennedy appointed the emergency board Wednesday shortly after Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz reported collapse of the negotiations.

Named as mediators along with Morse were James J. Healy, as-

Rhodes Hung In Effigy for Personnel Cut

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A hanging effigy of Gov. James A. Rhodes appeared on the grounds of the Columbus State School Wednesday night—at about the time personnel cuts were being reported for other Ohio Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction facilities.

Dayton State Hospital's administrator, Dr. M. T. Faruki, confirmed that 70 employees at that institution were fired Wednesday under an order handed him by the department. Another 18 were lopped off the payroll at the Dayton Children's Psychiatric Hospital, also state-operated.

In Cincinnati, officials said the order would affect 100 employees of Longview State Hospital and 30 at Rollman Receiving Hospital-State Institute of Psychiatry.

In each case, the firings approximated 10 per cent of staff. Officials at the institutions said most of those dismissed, or to be dismissed shortly, constituted replacements for employees who left previously.

The dismissals are part of the economy move of Rhodes and his finance director, Richard L. Krabach, in which they are ordering all department heads to release all personnel hired since last Sept.

Communist Chiefs Alarmed At Widening Split In Party

BERLIN (AP)—The world Communist movement is in trouble and its leaders are alarmed. The current congress of Communist leaders in East Berlin can only widen the rift between Peking and Moscow.

The alarm showed through Premier Khrushchev's major speech

Wednesday. His bombast, his brandishing of nuclear might, his boasts of coming Soviet superiority, all seemed just to be window dressing.

What frightens the Communists? It is the prospect of polarization of authority — two Communist seats of power instead of one, with the world movement ripped apart.

Even Fidel Castro, the newest addition to the ranks of Red leaders, seems to be leaning in the direction of the Chinese deviation these days. He could influence many a Latin-American Communist to do likewise.

Castro, annoyed since Khrushchev suddenly yanked away his hope for nuclear weapons in October, chose the day of Khrushchev's big speech to denounce the Communist division and issue a fiery call to revolution all over Latin America. His attitude had a Chinese sound.

Castro likely is not alone in his impatience. Khrushchev's cautious policy, while it may be good for the Soviet Union, leaves many a Communist party out on a limb, looking forward to long years of serving Soviet interests without concrete rewards. The more reckless belligerent Chinese policy likely would suit many in the world movement much better.

But Premier Khrushchev told the Chinese Communists Wednesday that if they will not listen to his logic, they will have to go their own way. From the looks on the faces of the Red Chinese delegation, Peking might consider doing just that.

Khrushchev rejected Peking's idea of a meeting of world Red leaders on Chinese terms. If the Chinese want to talk about ending the dispute, says Khrushchev, they first must stop the name-calling in public. It has been going on for a long time now and is rising in violence.

Khrushchev accused the Chinese of wanting to spread communism by war, without regard for the widespread destruction that course might bring. There are other ways, says the Soviet leader, and there should not be resort to arms even in a revolutionary movement if the seizure of power can be achieved less riskily.

The Chinese don't agree that both sides will suffer catastrophe

Rhodes' Bills To Get Action

Measure To Create New Jobs Is Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rhodes administration bills have begun to seep into the legislature, including a measure designed to create 200,000 new jobs in the state.

Also introduced is a House bill to create a nine-member board of regents to establish higher education policies in the state.

Still a third important bill, which has the support of House Speaker Roger Cloud, Logan County Republican, would change the date of the statewide primary election from May to August except in presidential election years when the primary would be held in June.

The industrial development bill would set up a 21-member commission with authority to issue revenue bonds to cover the state's share of the industrial resurgence program GOP Gov. James A. Rhodes seeks. This measure was one of the main points last fall in Rhodes' campaign.

The board of regents which is sought to oversee the rapid development of Ohio's higher education program would be made up of nine members, including the speaker of the House, the majority leader in the Senate, the attorney general and six members appointed by the governor.

The group would be strictly a policy-making body.

The proposed change in the date of Ohio primary elections to August in gubernatorial years and June in presidential years would ease the strain on candidates for lesser offices, Cloud believes, by primary and the election in November.

Cloud told newsmen the legislature is running into a serious—even critical—printing jam as the result of a lawsuit pending over the contract for legislative printing.

He said "some sort of a legislative decision must be reached early next week" unless the 10th

Delinquent Water Users Get Warning

Utilities superintendent William J. Thompson today announced that beginning next week water will be shut off in homes of users who have delinquent bills.

Announcement of Thompson's action follows a decision by the public utilities board that delinquent water bills are "getting to be a real problem in Salem."

A crew of water meter readers will begin shutting off operations Monday.

Thompson says a majority of Salem's 4,846 water users have been paying their bills on time.

W. Reserve Board to Open Bids on Bonds

BERLIN CENTER—Action was taken to borrow $40,000 and plans made to open bids on bond sales for the new high school on Jan. 30 at a meeting Wednesday night of the Western Reserve School District Board of Education.

The group authorized clerk Charles Zimmerman to file an application for borrowing the $40,000 sum on state foundation monies to meet payroll expenses in January. Superintendent Maurice Jones said the school district will not receive its state foundation money until the end of February. The loan is partially necessitated by the late collection of property taxes in Mahoning County this spring.

The board voted to open bids on sale of bonds for the high school at 2 p.m. Jan. 30 in Supt. Jones' office. The board will decide who will sell the bonds at 8 that evening.

Supt. Jones reports the plans for the new high school are "moving very fast." The board spent three hours reviewing the details, room by room, last night with the architect, Smith, Buchanan and Smith of Youngstown.

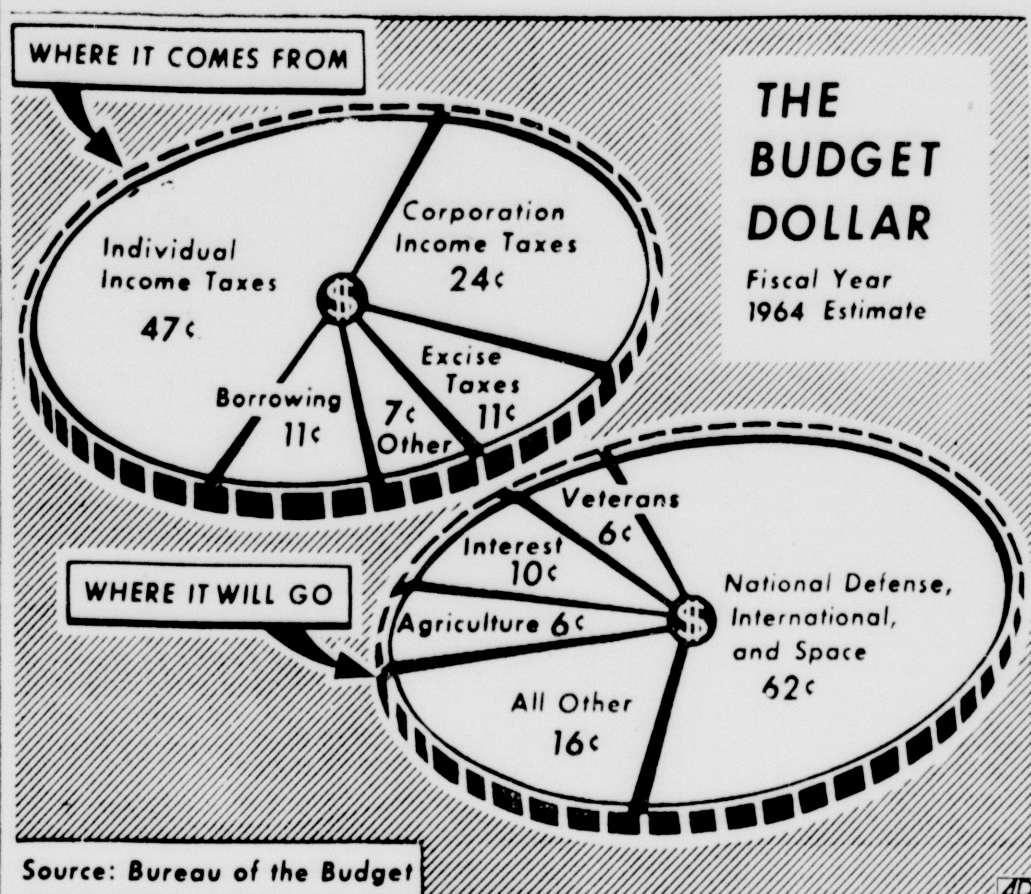

The review followed the architect's second session with teachers, custodians and kitchen workers who were requested to submit ideas on improving the plans. Further progress on plans for the school is expected to be made at another special meeting of the board next Wednesday.

Stratton Chevrolet Co. of Damascus was the apparent low bidder on two 66-passenger school buses at a cost of $14,830, although the board is awaiting

JFK Asks Rise In Space Budget

In Effort To Put Man on Moon by '70

WASHINGTON (AP) — A big boost in spending for the U.S. space agency was recommended today by President Kennedy to blaze a trail for American landing on the moon by this decade's end and put more hustle in the space race.

He asked Congress to approve 4.2 billion for fiscal 1964—$1.8 billion more than in 1963 and more than triple the amount spent in 1962.

"The space programs of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will continue to expand as this nation strives to maintain a position of world leadership in the exploration and utilization of space," Kennedy said.

In addition, the administration sought Congress' okay for $184,880,000 spending by the Atomic Energy Commission for space projects—an increase of some $40.4 million over this year. This would cover a stepped up effort to develop nuclear powered rockets and advanced devices for supplying communications and other satellites with auxiliary nuclear power.

Thus, for all space projects by the two agencies, the administration sought approval for spending $4,384,880,000 in the coming fiscal year, compared with $2,544,449,000 in the current one.

In his budget message to Congress Kennedy noted that defense spending and the growth in the space program had accounted for the major part of the increase in the budget since his administration took office.

The President added that efforts are being concentrated on the continued development of the complex Apollo spacecraft—the vehicle slated for the lunar mission—and the giant advanced Sat-

Nease Opening Hinges On Waste Facilities

The Columbiana County Health Department at Lisbon received a letter this morning from George H. Eagle, chief sanitary engineer of Ohio Department of Health, advising the board that the Nease Chemical Co. north of Salem will remain closed until adequate facilities for the treatment of waste have been provided.

The company was closed last Friday by the state health department after plant waste was found to be polluting Beaver Creek as far south as Lisbon.

Police Vigilance Results In Capture

Pair Who Held Up Hotel Here Nabbed

Routine, night vigilance of Salem police and cooperation of the Stark County sheriff's office resulted in the speedy capture of two young Canton men who held up the Metzger Hotel about 4 a. m. today.

All or most of the nearly $90 taken was recovered.

Frank Moretta and Robert L. Dickey, both 20, of Canton were picked up by two deputies from the Stark County sheriff's office as they drove from Salem on Route 62 about 4:39 a.m. today, scarcely more than a half hour after they staged an armed robbery at the hotel.

Actually, Salem patrolmen on duty in a night cruiser had spotted the Canton pair riding about Salem in the early hours of the morning, some time before the holdup took place. Believing the men looked suspicious, the Salem police did a license check by radio and trailed the men in their car about Salem briefly, traveling out S. Lincoln Ave. and abandoning the trail when the car appeared to be heading toward Lisbon.

Victor Carreon, night clerk at the Metzger Hotel, called the local police station at 4:05 a.m., informing them he had been held up by two men wearing stocking caps and black trench coats.

Carreon reported he had been forced to lie on the floor while the robbery took place. He said the pair had attempted to get him to open the hotel safe near the desk, but Carreon, who has been a clerk at the local hotel

Suspect In Sebring Fire Faces Hearing

SEBRING — George Calderone, 19, of 1066 S. 15th St., taken into custody by police Wednesday at 1 p.m. at his home in connection with two fires in Sebring McKinley High School yesterday morning, was scheduled to receive a hearing today before Mahoning County Court Judge John Reddy.

Fire Chief John Watson said Calderone admitted entering the school and setting blazes in the auditorium and a classroom, causing damage estimated at about $5,000.

About 20 volunteer firemen fought the blazes for two hours yesterday.

Classes resumed this morning following closure of the school yesterday to air out the smoke.

Schnell Suit Against Union One of Largest

The $1,100,000 suit filed against the United Steelworkers' union yesterday by Schnell Tool & Die Co. of 631 W. State St. represents one of the largest amounts ever sought in a court action in Columbiana County common pleas court, court attaches believe.

Named defendants in the action are the United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO, 241 E. State St., and Ormond Long of 220 S. Howard Ave., president of the union at the Schnell plant.

Schnell Tool & Die asks $1,000,000 and Salem Stamping $100,000 as the result of statements made by Mr. Long and published Dec. 15, 1962, in a front page article in The Salem News, saying that "the bulk of the workers belonging to the union get $1.15 to $1.35 per hour while others are paid $1.45 to $1.60, the latter being the maximum." This was untrue, the petition states.

The Dec. 15 article concerned a threatened strike at the plant.

Schnell Tool & Die states "that, apart from watchmen, a cleaning woman and certain clerical workers, no employee is paid less than $1.85 an hour (an apprentice) and that the rest all get $2 and up an hour and at least one employee, believed to be a member of the union, gets $2.90 an hour."

The petition, filed by Atty. Ralph Atkinson, counsel for Schnell, claims that Mr. Long's statements were false and were damaging to the company with respect to its products and future operations.

It asks that Long and Edward Hilland of Struthers, sub-district director of the Steelworkers of America, name all members of the union at the plant as of Dec. 15. Mr. Hilland is not a party defendant in the suit, as indicated in a story of the filing Wednesday.

$98.8 Billion Would Result In Deficit Boost

JFK Says Program Would Spark Nation To Full Employment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy proposed today an unprecedented $98.8-billion budget keyed to deficit-boosting tax cuts which he said would spark the nation toward full employment, production and purchasing power. Kennedy's spending program for the year starting July 1 would top even the highest of wartime budgets, $98.3 billion in 1944-45, and shoot the public debt to a record $315.6 billion.

Nonetheless, he insisted it was shaped to put new life into the economy and insure "efficient and frugal" conduct of the government.

In a message sending his mid-term budget to Congress, Kennedy acknowledged the $13.5-billion, three-year tax cutting plan he unveiled earlier this week would at first add red ink to federal finances. He estimated the deficit would rise from the $8.8 billion now anticipated this year to $11.9 billion.

Recommendations Kennedy sent to Capitol Hill included:

—Over-all defense spending of $55.4 billion, up $2.4 billion from the current year; emphasis on a strong retaliatory force, flexible conventional forces, better air and missile defenses.

—Space programs costing $4.2 billion, an increase of $1.8 billion; manned space flight efforts to get most of the total, with the goal of getting a man to the moon.

—Foreign aid totaling $4,945,000,000 with special attention for countries willing to help themselves.

—Another bid for medical care for the aged financed through Social Security taxes; a new request for a Cabinet-level Department of Urban Affairs. Detailed recommendations will be made later for aid to education, farm and other programs.

For peacetime, the anticipated $11.9-billion deficit would be second only to the $12.4 billion incurred under former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1958-59. But Kennedy argued a 1963-64 deficit is unavoidable, even at the present level of taxes. The choice, he said, lies between accepting a "chronic deficit of inertia due to inadequate economic growth" and a temporary deficit caused by programs designed to generate the economy, increase revenues and eventually achieve budget surpluses.

"The first type of deficit is a sign of waste and weakness," he argued. "The second is an investment in the future."

Kennedy foresaw receipts of $86.9 billion. He offered this reasoning to conclude that reduced taxes will start producing new revenues in the year ahead:

Tax cuts taking effect in 1963—he didn't say when—would by themselves decrease government income for the fiscal year some $5.3 billion. But two factors trim the net loss from what might have been expected to $2.7 billion. These are a speedup in collection of corporation taxes, which now lag six months, and the advance in taxable income anticipated from the stimulus of a cut in rates. And despite this loss, re-

Nikita Is Aware of U.S. Nuclear Striking Force

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The time was 1946. In an almost giddy rush the United States was dismantling its wartime armaments. It was enough to make a man like Winston Churchill shudder.

He was 72 then and at Fulton, Mo., in a speech whose wisdom it took years to learn, he said he was convinced the Russians admired nothing so much as strength.

But the United States didn't get the point until the cold war began. I began the rebuilding slowly in a new world of weapons; nuclear warheads on weapons. Without warheads the missiles are hardly more than arrows.

Time was needed; and money and science but above all a determination not to be overwhelmed in a "trial of strength." Through the Eisenhower years there was worry the Russians were ahead. Democrats talked of a missile gap. President Kennedy in the 1960 campaign mentioned a missile gap at least five times.

Eisenhower, who knew better than Kennedy then, was unshaken. In his last State of the Union message to Congress Jan. 12, 1961, he recalled some history, reassured his countrymen on their power.

"No guided ballistic missiles were operational at the beginning of 1953," he said, but now "the explosive power of our weapons system for all purposes is almost inconceivable."

It had to be assumed, for the missiles to mean anything, that each one had its nuclear warhead. Neither Eisenhower nor anyone else in this country, before or since, has given total figures on missiles or warheads.

Even after Eisenhower's farewell reassurance there were doubts. The Democratic talk of missile gaps had cut deep, left a biting question: No matter how much we had, were the Russians ahead?

The first one in the Kennedy administration to suggest the missile gap was a myth was Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara at a news conference Feb. 6, 1961, just shortly after he took office.

Kennedy two days later at a news conference toned down the McNamara talk, said the Defense Department hadn't yet finished a study which could say, one way or the other, whether there was a missile gap.

But in a few months doubt was swept away when McNamara's deputy secretary, Roswell L. Gilpatric, on Oct. 21, 1961, at Hot Springs, Va., told the world:

"Soviet bluster and threats of rocket attacks must be evaluated against the hard facts of United States nuclear superiority."

"The fact is that this nation has a nuclear retaliatory force of such lethal power than an enemy move which brought it into play would be an act of self-destruction."

He put the number of "delivery vehicles" — missiles, intercontinental bombers, polaris submarines, overseas bases — in "tens of thousands."

It still wasn't an exact figure. But it was the closest any official had come to indicating the total of nuclear warheads. Probably no one knew better than Gilpatric was talking about than Premier Khrushchev.

Wednesday in East Berlin he told the world the United States has 40,000 nuclear warheads enough "to kill 700 or 800 million people. Countries would be wiped out. Would socialism win by a thermo-nuclear war? No."

He sounded impressed, was no longer belligerent. It indicated that Churchill 16 years ago understood the human mind well, including the Russian.

Police At Columbiana Note Decreased Costs

COLUMBIANA — The Columbiana Police Department's total operating costs for 1962 were $28,731, nearly $5,000 under the estimated $33,595 appropriated at the beginning of the year, Chief William McGuckin reports. The figure represents a decrease of $2500 from the operating costs of the previous year.

Wages accounted for most of the money, Chief McGuckin said. Salaries for the chief and the three regular patrolmen amounted to $19,740, and $2,641 was spent for extra police wages including the cost of maintaining the emergency telephone service.

Police department income from parking meters, fines and costs, and ticket fines contributed only $5,127 toward the ultimate cost. The balance came from tax money. Chief McGuckin feels that a further decrease in expenses during 1963 is unlikely.

OFFICERS ELECTED by the Columbiana Boat and Ski Club recently were: Richard Caldwell, commodore; James Marshall, vice commodore; Mrs. William Engberg, secretary; and Mrs. Kenneth Tyson, treasurer. Club members will meet at 2:15 p.m. Sunday at the YWCA in Youngstown for a family swimming party.

Income Tax Has Been Life Saver

It was back in 1958 when the Ohio Expenditure Council, after analyzing receipts and expenditures of the city of Salem, warned city officials and local business leaders that our city would be forced to secure additional operating revenue if essential municipal services were to be maintained.

The city at that time was barely breaking even at the year-end, despite a conservative municipal operation. Operating revenue from normal tax sources was unchanged, yet costs continued to spiral.

THE MUNICIPALITY managed, however, to hang on, although there were some deficits, until City Council in 1960 adopted an income tax levy of one-half of one per cent. Council overrode Mayor Dean Cranmer's veto of the ordinance Nov. 16, 1960, and the tax went into effect Jan. 1, 1961. The city didn't have one dime to rub against another, in fact, had to borrow $10,000 to meet the city payroll to close out 1960.

Since Jan. 1, 1961, the financial clouds have had silver linings. A 9-month income tax collection report for that year showed $130,856.59 in additional revenue for the general fund and for capital improvements. Fourth quarter collections are tabulated in the subsequent year. For 1962, City Auditor Helen Coyne's reports show, the city income tax netted $197,848.42, with the last quarter again not included.

IN ADDITION TO bolstering the city's general fund to help meet current expenses, the income tax funds have provided the means for carrying out street improvements, purchasing equipment for the safety and service departments, laying new sewer lines, providing funds for the city's share of the W. State St. overpass and other capital improvements.

The income tax has been the "pot at the end of the rainbow" for Salem, as well as nearly 50 other Ohio communities.

Without this "bonanza" our city would be hanging on the ropes of financial despair, and as long as city officials continue to exercise good judgment in spending, the income tax amount will never have to be increased.

Longer Run For the Money

We have no idea what follow-through incoming Gov. James A. Rhodes will make on his dismissal of state employees hired since Sept. 15.

But insofar as it is an indication of intent to trim the state payroll permanently, the idea looks mighty attractive to taxpayers wondering about the tendency of government to grow by leaps and bounds while private enterprise must grow by squiggles and squirts.

In Washington, Rep. Frank T. Bow of the 16th Ohio district has hit the same responsive chord in taxpayers' hearts with a bill to cut the federal payroll by forbidding department heads to replace employees who quit or retire.

THESE ARE severe measures. Some state employees hired since Sept. 15 were topnotch. Some of the replacements who will get on the federal payroll to keep the manpower level ever-higher will be better than the people they replaced.

What makes the idea of payroll shrinking attractive to taxpayers is that only in government is there an uncurbed tendency to pile new employees on payrolls. Nowhere else does such a thing happen. It would be unthinkable in any well-managed business.

In all places where management must make ends meet, payrolls fluctuate. Nobody gets a job merely because someone is of the opinion that one more jobholder would make things easier.

It is assumed that all jobholders will be able to justify their hire. Payrolls do not increase when deficits are being incurred.

There is a process in private enterprise known as "trimming the fat." It happens when the enterprise enters upon lean times. Miraculous results are common, such as the discovery that Parkinson's Law works in reverse.

PARKINSON'S LAW says work expands to fit the time allotted for its performance. In reverse, it says work shrinks to fit the manpower available for its performance.

The fact is that in some places at some times people are drawing pay on state payrolls just for being there. They perform no useful work. We never hear about them; the stress always is on the places where the state is short of help.

We don't know how Gov. Rhodes intends to follow through on the payroll trimming he has ordered. But we wish him well in this and all his other ideas for giving taxpayers a longer run for their money.

Old-Fashioned Living Was Tough

It was reasonable to expect an old-fashioned January thaw after an old-fashioned winter.

But there's a curious thing about these reversions to old-fashioned winter. They don't seem to be as tough as they used to be.

The reason is plain. Take an old-fashioned Gordie Scott of Gordon Scott sporting goods store and Don Wank, artist and sign painter, are known for their witicism in the classified ad columns of The Salem News. They, like many other individuals, have found the use of the classifieds profitable to their own business.

A farmer out in Decorah, Iowa, who may have read some of the clever messages of Messers Scott and Wank in Salem, put this ad in his own hometown paper: For Sale: 1 Holstein milk cow, black and white, $100. Accessories: udder, $75; two-tone color, $50; 4 split hoofs, $10 each; tail approximately 1½ feet, $5; extra stomach, $35; dual horns optional, $15 each; total price, $335.

Purely Personal

Maybe I should be surprised but I'm not — over an urgent plea by the American Committee for Aid to Katanga Freedom Fighters for U.S. congressional aid. Belgian-British capital has given up on Tshombe and no longer will pay white mercenaries to run his army. The guy now is through unless new money for his operating expenses can be found elsewhere.

This is the longest time in my memory that snow has been on the ground continuously at our rural hideout. Even on hillsides where in other years it has evaporated after a few weeks, it's still white and deep.

As for the woodwork painting that customarily is done at this time of year on orders of the lady I spill paint on unprotected surfaces with, I am working on an invention called demountable woodwork. You take it to the basement to paint it and when it's dry you snap it back into place.

My ardor for Jacqueline Kennedy turns cool when she becomes involved in Culture, because then it comes to me clearly that she is Couth and I am Uncouth—so much so that I don't dig the flap over the Mona Lisa. In fact, I don't even dig the inflated money value of art.

Of all the offbeat information I have picked up recently, the item I enjoyed most was Samuel Lubell's report that he couldn't find anyone who thought things were in such bad shape that the country needed to be rescued at this time by the politicians. Imagine what a pickle they'd be in if people got tired of being rescued.

I was fascinated by the description of a gadget that enabled newspaper writers to set type by pounding their typewriters—no need for paper shufflers or typographers. Then I remembered that old-timers did this routinely, setting their own stuff in type by hand before gadgetry began.

Several times a year I realize nobody wants to stop any of three things: Inflation, sin and the merry-go-round. This clears my mind until I again let myself be half talked out of what I know to be true.

Election reforms are never-ending, but I save my enthusiasm for the one reform I believe would transform the people's attitude toward voting—changing the election date to Sunday, to get rid of the idea that voting must be crowded into a work day and therefore can't be important.

Funny thing about those Garry Moore shows that play on nostalgia for the years gone by, with old songs and sets reminding viewers of old scenes and incidents. If it happens to be one of your favorite years it seems to have been a vintage year and you feel sorry for underprivileged people who didn't share it with you.

I am astonished at the resourcefulness of cooks in concealing the fact cauliflower has an offensive odor and flavor. There are recipes that make the stuff palatable, which is more than can be said for any recipe I have encountered for coping with the more difficult problem of disguising squash.

I think it is time for some intelligent, sensitive people devoted to the principles of collective bargaining to remember what lies behind the aphorism that all power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely. It means no one should be given absolute power lest he ruin himself.

Long ago I ceased to worry over my inability to remember people's names, and this now is paying dividends because what seemed to be so bad it couldn't get worse has grown much worse. I'm now forgetting their faces too. The only comfort is that a lot of them don't remember me or my face either.

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Fair play is always extolled as a virtue in a democratic system but it is regrettably true that, in public controversies, the American people often get only one side of the story.

If, for instance, public opinion polls were taken today, a large number of those interviewed would answer that the steel companies in April 1962 were not acting in "good faith" with President Kennedy when steel prices were raised.

Mr. Kennedy, as recently as Dec. 17, repeated his charge of bad faith and said he would do everything he did last April all over again.

Will the millions of people who heard those statements over TV and radio ever get the other side?

This week Roger Blough, chairman of the U.S. Steel Corp., in an interview in Look magazine, tells his side of the story for the first time.

Some general statements have been made before by the steel company official, but there has been no such spirited and explicit rebuttal. It is believed that the reason for the new pronouncement is the fact that on Dec. 17, the President — in a radio and TV interview over all three national networks, before an estimated 21 million viewers — made again the same charge of lack of good faith which he made last April.

MR. BLOUGH flatly contradicts the President's charges of bad faith. He says that, while he holds no animosity toward President Kennedy, there are certain misconceptions" he wants to refute — among them, the following:

"That I purposely lulled President Kennedy into the false impression that U.S. Steel would not raise prices, and then raised them — which is absolutely contrary to the facts."

"That my personal call on the President to inform him of the price rise last April 10 was a calculated affront. Again, this is completely opposite to the truth."

"That U.S. Steel did not need a price rise — entirely untrue — and that our move had political overtones — equally untrue."

Mr. Blough says that the price increase would not have hurt and, indeed, would have helped the American economy. He adds:
"And I'm convinced that pricing by political pressure, rather than pricing by the forces exerted in a free competitive market, weakens the industrial strength upon which America's very survival may depend in time of crisis."

Mr. Blough recalls that, when the President telephoned the negotiators on both sides on the last day of March, congratulating them on the contract Mr. Kennedy included this remark: "It's obviously noninflationary and should provide a solid base for continued price stability."

THE U.S. STEEL chairman says this remark troubled him at the time, since he had repeatedly told the President that "cost increases were basically the cause of this nation's recent inflation and that a price rise was long overdue U.S. Steel." Mr. Blough recalls that he had been quoted in newspapers and magazines in the same vein on several occasions before last April.

Mr. Blough declares that Mr. Kennedy nevertheless made "what was probably the strongest attack made by a president." The steel chairman then adds:
"In retrospect, I believe that at least part of President Kennedy's vehement public reaction to the news of steel's price increase was not really because he expected a nationwide inflationary spiral to result from it — but because he had been hoping for a steel-price status quo for reasons involving his relations with labor. "His earlier stand against a 35-hour work week had displeased the labor unions. I believe that he and Secretary Goldberg felt that an increase in steel prices, following the early wage negotiations, would be viewed as evidence that the administration's policies were adverse to labor's interests."

cent per pound. He notes that the American consumer would hardly have noticed the price change, as it was only three-tenths of a cent per pound. He notes that the steel going into an electric toaster would have cost only three cents more. In an automobile only $10.64 more, and in a washing machine only an added 15 cents. But the steel chairman points out it would have helped to meet wage and other costs, which had risen by 6 per cent since 1958 without any increase in prices.

DISCUSSING the "public interest," a phrase often used at the time of the steel controversy, Mr. Blough says it is the duty of the government to protect the lawful interests of everybody and "to insure that force and coercion do not intrude upon those interests, and to guarantee that each individual no intrude upon the lawful interests of others." He concludes:

"Viewed in this light, I do not think it in the public interest in peacetime for anyone, including those of presidential rank, to substitute his own action for the action of the marketplace by trying to set prices for any competitive products."

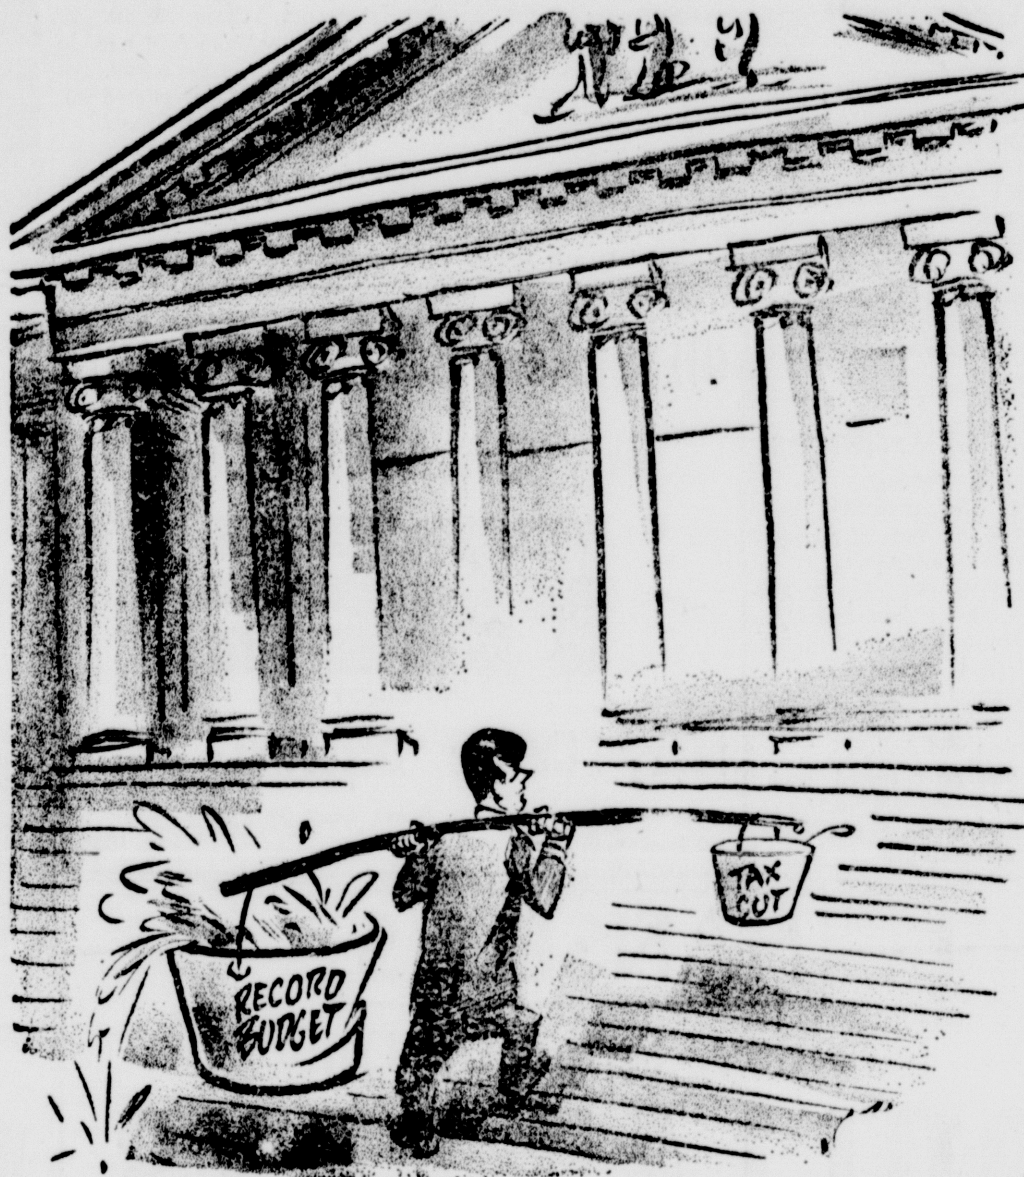

Mr. Blough emphasizes the need for mutual confidence between the government and industry, and points to the demoralized spirit of business and the heavy losses in stock-market values that followed the controversy.

All this was an experience unique in American history, and it is important that the public should have "the other side" in view of the heavy publicity advantage enjoyed by a president of the United States.

On Both Shoulders

JFK Tackles Tough Task

By VICTOR RIESEL

John Kennedy, having apprenticed on such minor problem people as Khrushchev and Castro, has now handed himself a major task. He has decided to be his own business agent on the labor front.

He's dealing more directly with labor leaders on all echelons than did any other president. He moved in personally shortly after Arthur Goldberg moved up to the Supreme Court to which there is positively no hot line from the White House.

It was never reported, but one of Mr. Kennedy's earliest personal "interventions" came in the aerospace crisis late last year. The missile, space and jet industry was threatened by strikes over the union shop.

Mr. Kennedy called in Walter Reuther and some aerospace industry executives. They conferred in his office. At one point the businessmen were startled and then angered, as Reuther, in the presence of the President, told them bluntly his union would get the union shop. He talked for quite a while.

THE BUSINESSMEN felt they were being lectured — and they resented it. Actually, this presidential parley settled little. The union shop formula was defeated by a vote at some of the famed aerospace installations.

There still is a crisis at Lockheed. A strike over the issue could well shut down the vast Boeing plant in Seattle.

Not too long after that conference, the New York newspaper strike broke. The President watched it closely. Over the weekend of Dec. 22, he decided to act personally. He would make a telephone call to Typographical Union strike leader Bertram Powers.

But there was a priority crisis. Longshoremen were threatening to paralyze all ports from Searsport, Me., to Brownsville, Tex.

There seemed to be nothing that could stop the dockwalkers. Mr. Kennedy had talked to the national labor leaders in Washington. In turn, AFL-CIO President George Meany had secretly summoned strike leader Teddy Gleason and a few others to closed-door talks. Meany had asked them to head off the strike, if possible.

The entire nation was involved. And a strike would embarrass John Kennedy by forcing him to go before Congress with what would be interpreted as a criticism of all labor.

THE LONGSHOREMEN'S answer is now history. But the President, as has been revealed by this column, decided to make one last personal effort. On the morning of Dec. 23 he telephoned Gleason. The Longshoremen's leader said the strike had to roll.

It was just about then that suggestions were made to a sulfurous sounding President that he intervene in the grim news strike. The duce with that, he said in effect, He was just not going to be rejected twice. Not in one week-end, anyway.

But if the pier workers had not rejected him, he would have made another call on the other strike.

He still is determined to deal directly. Most of his dealing will be with labor's national leader, George Meany. And so will most of the government's activities on this front be channeled through Meany. This is John Kennedy's personal decision. He has passed this word on to his Cabinet and the White House staff.

This he did some months ago when Walter Reuther got up a conference of some of those famous "doves" and "hawks."

Reuther had some ideas on foreign policy and international labor. Meany was not invited to the gathering, at which Reuther asked for support for a hush-hush project in Italy.

JOHN KENNEDY was angered when he heard of the meeting. It was then that he sent word that Meany was the nation's labor spokesman from then on.

The two men see each other frequently now. Thus, when Mr. Kennedy had to meet head on the problem of the $50 million deadlocked Longshoremen stoppage, he called Meany in at 10 a.m. on Friday, Jan. 11. There was some plain speaking on both sides. It ranged from talk of an angry Congress possibly passing laws to curb labor to a discussion of free unions in Latin America.

Meany did not and could not pledge the President the end of the strike. No one outside of the International Longshoremen's Association could.

WHAT IS not generally understood is that the national AFL-CIO headquarters does not have any real industrial power. It is a union of unions, a coalition of labor leaders.

They are the powers in each crisis. And it is becoming unfashionable in some of their circles to settle a strike without first getting the personal attention and intervention of Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz — and then the President himself.

Without such personal attention, some of the labor men feel declassified. If the President persists in being his own business agent, he will find little time for such minor crises as can be whipped up by Khrushchev, Castro, Mao and Co.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a father who is ready to tear the remaining hairs out of my head.

How can I get my 16-year-old to stop wearing my clothes. You are probably thinking all sons like to wear their Dad's clothes, but it's not my son I'm writing about—it's my daughter.

Shirts, sweaters, socks—everything seems to wind up on her back. Of course, nothing fits, but then she says it's not supposed to. It's the style now to wear everything four sizes too big. The teenagers today buy the largest size they can find—except when it comes to jeans and saddle pants. Then they buy the smallest. Last night when I asked my wife where my hunting jacket was she said, "Judy wore it to a hay ride."

Is there a solution or am I doomed for life?—DADDYKINS.

Dear Daddykins: Not for life—just until she gets married. And then guess what—you'll miss the annoyance.

Dispossessed

Dear Ann: My hobby is repairing hi-fi and radios. It is fun for me and I also manage to make a little extra money on the side. My workshop was a cozy area off the kitchen. It used to be a butler's pantry, but my wife never used it.

Last week she suddenly decided my "junk" would have to go into the basement because it didn't look nice right next to her kitchen. Without even discussing it with me she moved everything downstairs.

Now she has her sewing machine in there and the room is messier than ever. Her patterns, dummies and bolts of material are all over the place.

The basement is damp and uncomfortable. The climatic conditions are not good for delicate electronic equipment. I would like your advice—in print, if you please.—DISPLACE PERSON.

Dear Person: I know nothing about climatic conditions and electronic equipment but I DO know something about emotional climate and marriage.

Your wife had no right to move your equipment summarily to the basement. Move your stuff back upstairs immediately and make it clear you will not be treated like a small child.

Confidentially

GREAT TICKET: Harry Truman said it better than anybody. . . . "If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen."

From Our Readers

Friends Service Group Busy

This may sound somewhat like a sermon, yet it isn't.

We can live for ourselves and experience the hardships of trying to make ends meet, having the struggle of needing things we cannot get, and being frustrated and sad. Then again, we can live to serve God and our neighbors.

It is surprising how our needs are somehow met, and our wants are less than when we were thinking only of ourselves. Too, we find ourselves caring whether people are starving and are cold, or do not have the opportunity to provide for themselves. The caring spurs us to action and we gladly do something for them, even if it is only a little bit.

Such an opportunity is here now. The American Friends Service Committee, along with many other relief agencies, is trying to save people in Algeria from starving or perishing from the cold this winter.

I think all churches in our area are working through some relief agency. Their members should do their giving through those agencies.

We, of the Society of Friends on Sixth Street, are glad to collect warm clothing, warm blankets, money, soap, other things that are helpful in keeping people warm and sustained until spring comes. We can also help by giving trading stamps. These can be redeemed for blankets to be sent to the Algerians.

Those who would like to help through the American Friends Service Committee may leave blankets, warm clothing, or trading stamps at the home of Albert Starbuck, 249 E. Fourth Street, Salem, and they will be forwarded.

History Today

Today is Thursday, Jan. 17, the 17th day of 1963. There are 348 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1772, Danish dictator Johann Struensee was arrested after a 10-month tenure during which he issued more than 1,000 orders. Struensee also sought to insure obedience by dismissing them with his own nominees.

On this day: In 1706, American statesman and philosopher Benjamin Franklin was born.

In 1817, the South American patriot, Jose De San Martin, began his march across the Andes Mountains to drive the Spanish from Chile.

In 1899, the United States formally took possession of Wake Island.

A—If those around your son can tell by his crying out or rolling his eyes that an attack is starting, they can, if they are close enough, prevent him from falling. A cork, wadded handkerchief or wooden pencil

Dr. Brandstadt should be forced as far back between his teeth as possible taking care not to get your own fingers bitten. This will prevent him from biting his tongue.

Every effort must be made to bring his attacks under control before trying to plan his future. If modern treatment succeeds in controlling his attacks he should be able to lead a normal life as regards his schooling, his work, and marriage.

Q—Our 7-year-old daughter has passed out completely for a few seconds on two occasions. The doctor says she has petit mal epilepsy. He says it is not a bad case but I feel like someone had hit me with a club. Please tell me all you can about this disease.

A—There is an excellent chance that your daughter's epilepsy can be completely controlled because

Q—Is it dangerous to stop a grand mal epileptic seizure with massage before it runs its full course? I have a friend who has these spells and if I massage him before they get going strong he comes out of it more alert than if it goes its full course which leaves him stiff and blue and exhausted.

A—I have never heard of massage for grand mal attacks and don't see how you can manage to be present when his attacks are starting. The difficulty here is that many an epileptic has a mixture of mild attacks and severe attacks.

If you massage him during a mild attack he would not be exhausted on awakening. Why not get him to a specialist and see if the attacks cannot be prevented?

Q—I am 22 years old and until two years ago I had fainting spells. The doctor now gives me anticonvulsant drugs which keep me from having these spells. Since I have lost out on my schooling I would like to know of a place where I could go to complete my education.

Mrs. Richard Kyser

Linda Lee Corna Wed To Richard E. Kyser

Rev. Albert F. Oakes officiated at the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Linda Lee Corna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson B. Corna of Columbia St., Leetonia, and Richard Earl Kyser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Kyser of RD 1, Leetonia, at 7 p. m. Saturday in the Leetonia Methodist Church.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. Carol Davis as the bride was escorted by her father down an aisle marked with white satin pew markers.

For her wedding the bride wore an afternoon length gown of white Chantilly lace with long tapered sleeves and scooped neckline. A lace and sequin cap held her veil of illusion and she carried a bride's Bible attached to an arrangement of feathered carnations centered with a white orchid.

The bride chose her three sisters to attend her. Maid of honor was Kaye Corna in a street length gown of pink chiffon; bridesmaid, Sue Corna wore pink chiffon, and Junior bridesmaid Diana Corna, blue chiffon. All complemented their dresses with matching lace jackets and feather headpieces. Their flowers were cascade arrangements of gladioli.

Mr. Kyser chose C. Gary Gotthardt of Leetonia to be his best man and David McAfee and Richard Wire, both of Leetonia, ushered.

The mother of the bride wore a royal blue wool dress and corsage of cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Kyser's dress was a sheath of cornflower blue lace complemented with a corsage of cymbidium orchids.

Reception Is Held
A square four-tier wedding cake decorated with pink rosebuds and topped with miniature bridal figurines graced the bride's table at the reception in the church social room following the ceremony. Serving were Mrs. Charles Peppel, Mrs. Ed Gotthardt Jr., Mrs. Carl Early and Miss Penny Cross, all of Leetonia.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Many people do not like to put chlorinated water on their plants and ferns.

To solve this problem — after hearing all my neighbors who are horticulturists — I came across the answer after discussing it with a friend of ours who is a chemist.

When I defrost my refrigerator and deep freeze I take the blocks and pieces of ice and lay them upon each plant and fern in my house. I found that this melted slowly which watered the roots of the plants gently, and, so far as I know and my friend the chemist tells me, there was no chlorine involved!

The chemist said that by the time the air hits the frozen ice which has been placed on top of the plant, the water it makes . . . is warm by the time it hits the root of the plant — thus preventing root shock!

Could my educated friend be right?

I take many magazines and periodicals on these subjects and never has anyone given me the answer until my friend brought this to my attention last week.

DORIS C.

Dear Doris: So far as I know, I don't see how you could be wrong. But our question now is — why?

If anyone can give us the solution to this "problem" and why it works we would most appreciate it. I have researched through the entire library and the solution, or the answer, is not there.

Address your letters to Heloise. I am most excited about this woman's new discovery.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep my rayon satin comfort on the bed by covering it with ten yards of printed material. This costs only about 49 cents a yard and the total price for this project is only $4.90.

I tear this 10 yards of material in half which leaves me with two 5-yard pieces. I then sew these two lengths together along the selvage. Fold this in half.

Sew up both sides, forming a pillow — case type sack. On the to use left-over beef or lunch meat, put it through a food grinder.

Mix the ground meat with salad dressing, sweet relish or chopped pickles, minced onion, etc. Use this for sandwiches or . . . use ground beef mixed with cracker crumbs, butter, minced onion and enough tomato sauce to make meatballs. These are real good. I have used them in our restaurant and they are well-liked.

Khrushchev Visits Red Wall In Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev today visited communism's bleak and hated wall dividing Berlin and gazed thoughtfully for a moment at the American flag fluttering over nearby Checkpoint Charlie.

Standing at the point where U.S. and Soviet tanks confronted each other in the Berlin crisis of October, 1961, he wavered cheerfully to people in West Berlin.

The premier made his excursion to the wall at midday after hearing Wladyslaw Gomułka, Polish Communist chief, hail him as the man who saved the world from nuclear catastrophe during the Cuban crisis.

Khrushchev spent the morning at the East German Communist party conference where the argument between Moscow and Peking occupies the attention of 2,500 delegates and guests.

Gomułka demanded that the Chinese Communists cease their attacks on Soviet policies and "show greater modesty and moderation" in their dealings with Moscow.

Gomułka went right down the line to make it clear that he was backing Khrushchev without qualification in the argument with Peking. He also urged that this argument be taken out of the world's gaze and be settled by private discussions.

With East German party chief Walter Ulbricht at his side, Khrushchev then went to the wall. He showed no inclination to accept West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt's suggestion that he look at the wall from West Berlin.

He approached the border at the U.S. sector's Friedrichstrasse crossing point.

Brandt, in an interview early this month, suggested that Khrushchev get a first-hand picture of the real conditions in both parts of divided Berlin. But Khrushchev made no move to cross over into the West.

In bright sunshine, Khrushchev stood at the first red-and-white striped pole barring entry into East Berlin. Maj. Gen. Helmut Poppe, the East German commandant of East Berlin, stood at his side explaining the layout of the crossing point.

On the western side, an American Army officer in steel helmet and combat equipment stood near the dividing line watching the activity in the east.

A line of 10 East German border guard officers stopped pedestrians crossing while Khrushchev was at the checkpoint.

The Soviet premier walked forward to the white line across Friedrichstrasse marking the border between East and West.

Standing two feet from the line Khrushchev grinned and waved cheerfully to a group of Western newsmen six feet away from him. Then Khrushchev made a gesture with his hand, indicating it was time to go back. The group turned around and walked back into East Berlin.

They disappeared behind the maze of concrete obstacles across the road designed to keep vehicles from breaking through the Communist barriers.

East German officials said Khrushchev will make a trip through East Germany before the end of his present visit. The time and route were not disclosed.

The congress is due to end Jan. 21.

Khrushchev spent the morning at the third session of the East German party congress where he heard Gromyko say the Soviet leader is calling the tune correctly for the world Communist movement.

Upon receiving word of the holdup, police put the license number of the suspect car on the state police radio. Moretta and Dickey were captured without resistance minutes afterwards near Canton.

They are being charged with armed robbery. One of the men carried a club and the other a simulated "gun" in his pocket, the latter weapon was revealed to be a curved stick.

The pair confessed to the 4 a.m. hotel robbery and are being questioned in Canton about other recent robberies in that vicinity. Both men have police records. Dickey has served time in Mansfield for auto theft and came off parole Nov. 1.

Deadline Saturday For Dog Licenses

LISBON — A $1 penalty will be added after the Saturday morning deadline to the cost of dog licenses, according to Auditor Kenneth Bell.

Letters applying for licenses must be postmarked on or before Jan. 20 to avoid the penalty, Bell said.

Ray A. Hempstead, of 705 Sunset Drive, Republican incumbent, entered for renomination as clerk-treasurer at Lisbon.

Nunzio S. Lombardozzi of Wellsville entered for the Democratic nomination for Third Ward councilman at Wellsville.

The two new entries pushed to 70 the number officially entered for primaries in seven cities and villages.

Alien Registration Here Reported Slow

Aliens in Ohio have only until Jan. 31 to comply with the federal law requiring that aliens report their addresses to the government during January of each year, according to a reminder from Thomas M. Pederson of Cleveland, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Salem Postmaster Ray J. Reasbeck said today that registrations here have been slow thus far this year. Sixty-one aliens have registered to date, less than a third of the 1962 total of 188.

Aliens who have not yet complied with the law are urged to do so as soon as possible at the post office or at the nearest Immigration and Naturalization Service office.

Parents or guardians must file the report for alien children under 14 years of age.

INJURED IN SEBRING

The accident involving Allan King of RD 4, Salem, who was treated and released Tuesday at Alliance City Hospital for lacerations of the nose, occurred at the United Die and Manufacturing Company at Sebring and not at the United Tool and Die Company of Salem as erroneously reported Wednesday.

Leetonia Mayor, Fire Chief Give Reports to Council

LEETONIA — Twenty-nine cases were heard and $1,611 in fines and costs was collected in 1962 by Mayor Ralph Kennedy, he stated in his annual report when members of Leetonia Village Council met Wednesday.

Fire Chief Eldon Holt also read his annual report, stating that the fire department answered 50 calls during the year. The fires caused a total damage of $12,175, of which $5,200 was to village properties and the balance to Salem and Fairfield township properties.

The possibility of passing an ordinance to clear main streets of automobiles during the hours after midnight to enable street employees to clear the streets of snow and ice was discussed.

Purchase of a new street grader was discussed and the matter turned over to the street committee.

Council approved the full time employment of George Altman as equipment operator at a salary of $1.50 per hour. Altman held this position as part time work.

Present were Mayor Kennedy, Dan Butch, village clerk, Chief Holt, Richard Kleinknecht, street commissioner, Dale McCormick, Joe Weikart, Chester Whitacre, Elby Morris and Dan Cullinan.

Traffic Safety Unit Receives Contribution

A $50 check was presented to the Columbiana County Traffic Safety Committee at its meeting Wednesday evening in the council chambers in Lisbon Village Hall by David M. Davis of the Ohio Recapping and Auto Supply Co. of Salem.

The education committee discussed the possibility of forming safety councils in high schools in the county.

The council commended East Liverpool, East Palestine and Crestview schools for sending delegates to the state youth traffic safety committee in Columbus Jan. 5.

James Nesbit, vice president, presided at last night's meeting. The committee's next meeting will be Feb. 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the same place.

Budget

ceipts actually will increase $1.4 billion from the 1962-63 estimate of $98.5 billion because of an enhanced economy.

Thus Kennedy sought to rebut conservatives in Congress who denounce rising deficits as fiscal irresponsibility and are reluctant to cut taxes where the government ledger is in the red.

Nowhere did Kennedy name the effective date in 1953 on which he had his projection of a tax cut's effect on revenues. He held back most details for a special message to Congress later this month.

Declaring false economy would jeopardize the national interest, Kennedy recommended increased efforts.

For all other programs combined, his recommendations were slightly under the current total. Individually, some were higher—such as health, labor, welfare, education, housing and community development. Others—farm postal and shipping subsidy programs, for instance—were lower, and the decreases more than offset the increases.

Proposed over-all defense spending of $55.4 billion would absorb 55 cents of every tax dollar, but Kennedy asserted: "There is no discount price on defense."

The total, up $2.4 billion from the current year, includes $51 billion for the Pentagon, $2.8 billion for the Atomic Energy Commission, $1.45 billion for military aid abroad and the balance for stockpiling, selective service and the like.

If Congress approves, expenditures aimed at landing a man on the moon in this decade and exploring faraway planets will go up 75 per cent, from $2.4 to $4.2 billion.

Pending a separate message, Kennedy withheld details on his education program. He didn't tell whether he again will recommend federal aid for school construction and teacher salaries, a proposal spiked on the religious issue in the last Congress. But he said spending should rise $165 million to $1.5 billion and he requested a doubling to $3 billion of appropriations for immediate and future use.

In another controversial field, he suggested total spending of $3.75 billion on foreign aid. This would include $2.3 billion for economic assistance and represent a net decrease of $100 million in the entire program. He asked for an appropriation, however, of $4.9 billion. That's just about what he asked for a year ago. Congress cut out a billion.

For all functions of government, Kennedy requested new appropriations of $96.5 billion. These are the figures Congress debates. Appropriations control much of current spending, although part of the nearly $99 billion Kennedy proposes to spend has been previously authorized.

The President faces opposition to both his spending and tax plans because of the debt they will create.

Last year Congress raised the temporary limit to $308 billion, providing for a drop to $305 billion next April 1, to $300 billion on June 25 and back to the permanent ceiling of $285 billion on July 1.

To cope with conditions as he sees them, Kennedy urged a prompt extension of the $308-billion limit through June 30. He said he would seek a further increase for the next 12 months. The present outlook, he said, is for a debt of $315.6 billion at the end of that period. He postponed making a specific request, however, until a more reliable estimate is possible.

Before getting into the next fiscal year, Kennedy called on Congress to appropriate another $3.9 billion for the current year. He said that much is needed to pay for legislation passed in 1962 without adequate financing.

For 1963-64 spending, he made these additional recommendations:

in what is known as the administrative budget: Agriculture—$5.7 billion, down $1.1 billion.

Natural resources—$2.5 billion, up a billion.

Housing and community development—$300 million, down $200 million.

Health, labor and welfare—$5.6 billion, up $700 million.

Space

urn rocket needed to boost the Apollo to the moon.

He also said the budget provides for strong research efforts aimed at developing the technology needed for advanced space manned space flight and unmanned explorations of Venus and Mars.

Declaring the recent Mariner fly-by of the planet Venus proves U.S. progress in unmanned space investigations, the President said that during the coming fiscal year, the development of geophysical, astronomical, meteorological and communications satellites would also continue.

Kennedy recommended spending $2,713,000 for manned space flight, compared with an estimated $1,376,000,000 for the current year and $547 million in fiscal 1962.

For unmanned investigations of space spending of $593 million is asked, compared with $441 million this year.

sociated professor of industrial relations at Harvard University, and Theodore W. Kheel, New York City lawyer and veteran labor dispute arbitrator and impartial chairman of management-labor relations in various industries. Morse served on the War Labor Board during World War II.

Kennedy asked Morse to report back to him no later than next Monday.

The President said the strike, which has tied up more than 550 ships and idled nearly 100,000 waterfront and seagoing workers, is inflicting economic losses on the nation "at a rate of millions of dollars a day."

Total losses to date are estimated at one-half billion dollars.

Wages are one of the principal issues in the contract dispute. The ILA is seeking a package increase of 50 cents an hour, including 26 cents in wages, over two years. The industry has offered 22 cents over two years. The prestrike basic wage was $3.02 an hour.

Two Alliance Youths Plead Innocent to Drag Racing

Two 18-year-old Alliance youths, accused of drag racing, entered innocent pleas today in Northwest County Court at a hearing before Judge Luther Donbar. The case was continued until Monday when the magistrate will render his decision.

The motorists, Kent W. Henderson of 1117 W. College St., and Thomas J. St. George, 615 E. Waugh St., were cited by Cpl. R. D. Young and Patrolman J. M. Wattleworth of the Lisbon patrol barracks the night of Dec. 29 on Route 62 just east of Alliance.

The patrolmen said Henderson and St. George were traveling east side by side until Henderson finally overtook the other youth. Cpl. Young said driving conditions were extremely hazardous with ice on the highway and along the berms which could have thrown the racing vehicles against each other.

Six Salem motorists and five others from the area were fined for traffic offenses when they appeared for hearings in Northwest County Court.

Fined from Salem were: Theodore J. Rodgers, 1148 E. Pershing, $5 and costs, failure to signal a turn; Glenn W. Harris, 929 Franklin Ave., $10 and costs, improper turn; John S. Bachelor's Quandary

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The young man was in a quandary. "I am tired of being a bachelor and want to settle down," he told me. "But I'm in love with two girls."

"They have the same physical measurements, uh, 37-23-35, I think. Both have the same amount of money—none. Each has a steady job that holds promise of advancement."

"But one is beautiful. Everyone comes up and wants to meet her when I take her out. She is wonderful to look at."

"The other one is homely. Nobody bothers us when I'm with her. But she is so much fun to listen to."

"Tell me, which one should I marry?"

Well, the next morning I put the question to five married male philosophers gathered around the office water cooler. The vote might surprise the average woman. It came out four-to-one in favor of recommending that the young man wed the homely girl. "A beautiful dame is always holding the mirror up to herself," said the first. "A husband to her is only landscaping. He just serves as backdrop while she holds the center of the stage."

Said the second man: "It boils down to a matter of expense. Give me a homely girl every time. You'd think it would cost more to keep up a homely girl, because she needs so much improvement. Actually, it works the other way. It's the beautiful women who are never satisfied with how they look. They'll keep any man broke spending his money so they'll look even better—not to him but to other women."

"A homely woman is better because she doesn't mind giving a real belly laugh if something strikes her as funny, and a fellow likes a gal who can let go with a real belly laugh and enjoy herself," said the third man.

"That's true," broke in the fourth man. "But that's only part of it. There are other arguments."

"If you marry a beautiful woman, you wind up jealous of her. But if you marry a homely woman, she always worries about where your eye is wandering."

"Also, a beautiful woman never gets more beautiful, but marriage makes a homely woman prettier every year."

Indignantly the fifth man broke in:

"I must disagree with every crass word you fellows have uttered. Why, I married the most beautiful girl in the world, and I'd like to say—"

"How long you been married, son?" interrupted the first man.

"Three months, sir."

Granges

Juveniles will join the subordinate grange Wednesday for a safety program.

Lunch was served by the social committee comprised of Mrs. Wilbur Wood, Jean Wood, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mercer and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Whinery.

Members are asked to bring cake and jello or mixed fruit for lunch Wednesday.

Warren Sewage Job Suit Settled

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Al Monzo Construction Co. of Monroeville, Pa., has settled a suit against the city of Warren and two Michigan construction firms on rejection of its bid on work to be performed on a Warren sewage project.

At the suggestion of Judge James Connell in U. S. District Court Tuesday, attorneys for the Monzo Co. negotiated a financial settlement from the Rocco Ferrara Co. and the Boam Co., both of Detroit.

The suit arose out of a bid Monzo made for one phase of construction on the Mahoning River interceptor project. It claimed its bid of $2.2 million was $78,000 less than that of the two companies granted the contract.

The project was the center of a scandal last year in which a number of political officials and persons involved in the construction were convicted of bribery.

The amount of the settlement was not disclosed.

Heaviest single item ever shipped over an American railroad was a 98-foot refinery vessel early in October 1962. The piece had a gross weight on rails of 1,079,200 pounds.

ROUNDING THE BEND TO ABANDONMENT—A stream-lined Electro-Liner, custom built for the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee Railway in 1941, rounds a bend in Chicago's Loop area, outbound for Milwaukee. The Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee Railway, which reached its heyday under the guidance of utilities magnate Samuel Insull, is to be abandoned Monday due to a decline in commuter patronage. The North Shore holds records as the fastest interurban service in the world, reaching speeds up to 80 miles per hour before it leaves the city.

Fine Payment Settles Illegal Sales Case

William Early, Beloit area farmer, paid a $100 fine and $22.50 in court costs Wednesday to Judge Luther Donbar, settling an illegal sales case that had been pending since late October.

Early was found guilty Oct. 24 in Judge Donbar's court of unlawfully selling diseased cattle after the farmer had pleaded innocent.

The magistrate had fined him $500 and costs, but suspended $400 of the penalty. Early elected to go to jail to serve the $100 fine at the rate of $3 a day. However, the defendant did not present himself at the County jail as promised, the judge declared.

The case was closed yesterday however when Early's son brought the $122.50 to the judge to make good on the fine.

HOOP TALK

By...Double Dribble

Your Week is now complete! Double Dribble is here to provide you with a few choice comments about your favorite sport!

'Tis with much sadness that I remind you of the clawing taken in the Panthers den. . . But I feel there is much to be said for the mighty effort put forth by Salem's Quakers all through this ballgame.

If this game is ever replayed (I mean actually, not verbally) I feel that the Quakers are perfectly capable of reversing the tables on the boys from Warren.

Ravenna's Ravens didn't fare as well as the boys from Warren but they did manage to give the Red and Black a good account of themselves for quite a little while the following night. . . Salem Won this one going away in the fourth quarter.

And now we hasten on to this week's game with the mighty Red Dragons who will be breathing fire in the Quaker Gym this week (inhaling or exhaling?). Here is a team that is improving each time out (and they get out often) which will be no soft touch for Salem's Quakers.

Niles is not a huge team. . . but they have fair size and handle the ball very, very well. They have a 5 and 2 record losing to Canton McKinley. . . and to Massillon (there's that name again!). Both games were lost by considerable margins, but at least one of these could have been won on a fair shooting night.

Niles uses a full court press to a good advantage (especially if the calls are loose) and will give many a team fits in the backcourt all season long.

This clash, like the one in Warren will be a Big 8 clash, but it will have little bearing on the standings in that league. . . With one big exception. . . After the performance of both Salem's fans and Warren's fans in that contest. . . I'm sure we could use a few points for the Sportsman's trophy. Tsk. Tsk. you people certainly were nasty. . . did you feel bad the next day for calling those people names? This week, just for fun, why not try letting the man in the striped shirt make the calls? You'll find that if you do, you'll see more of the ballgame. . . because most people look at the person they are shouting to. . . thusly missing part of the game.

Like chili or potato soup? Why not attend the dinner in the School Cafeteria before the game. . . the money goes for the After-Prom Party which certainly sounds like a good cause. . . besides, if you'll check the prices you might find it's cheaper than eating at home. . . besides you don't have to do the dishes.

Did you lose my address? It's Double Dribble, P.O. Box 316, Salem, Ohio.

Invading Niles May Give Salem Severe Test Friday

Quakers Hold "Open House"

300 Attend Event Receive Knowledge

As Salem starts its second half of the season Friday night, it will have no easy task against Ohio Big 8 Conference rival Niles at the Senior High School here.

The Red Dragons are an aggressive team that hustles every inch of the way. Niles is 2-2 in loop action, and 5-2 for the campaign thus far.

Salem, which held a basketball open house at Senior High gymnasium Thursday night, has been polishing up its offense and defense during drills this week.

Approximately 300 fans attended the program. Coach John Cabas' theme was "You're The Coach."

NILES WILL BE invading with a two-game winning streak, and would like nothing better than to enhance its reputation by knocking off a Salem outfit.

Both schools have met and lost clashes to Massillon. The Tigers beat the Red Dragons by 21 points

You get a reputation in sports by establishing a good record against the best opposition. For that reason many of the state's top squads seek Salem as an opponent.

Of the 18 schools scheduled on the 1962-63 cage slate, eight of them were picked on the first Associated Press scholastic Class AA cage poll that came out Tuesday.

Harding, (10-1), who edged the Quakers 64-60 last Friday, and Columbus East, (8-1), who knocked off the Red and Black 75-49 to open the campaign, were voted second and ninth respectively in the survey.

Canton McKinley, (6-3), who battles Salem (6-3) in the season's final here Feb. 2, was tied with the Quakers for 41st place.

Others on the Quakers' card who received support were Massillon (6-3), Youngstown East (8-1), Wellsville (8-1), Youngstown South (8-1), and Akron South (9-0).

Columbiana County had Lisbon (8-1), and Columbiana (6-2) represented in the Class AA Division and Crestview (8-1) was chosen 11th in Class A.

THE ONLY SCHOOL sporting an undefeated team in the area is Clayton West's Hubbard Eagles with an 8-0 mark.

It wasn't too long ago that Hubbard was trying to snap a losing streak of three years that reached 50-plus games.

BILL BEERY, SALEM'S three-year-vet, has the third highest scoring average in the county. He has scored more points in Class AA competition than anyone else.

In nine clashes, the 6-1 senior, has chalked up 199 points for a 22.5 average. Dean Cline of East

Bob King

Liverpool has collected 192 points in eight contests for a 24 average.

Crestview's Jim Kress leads the Class A division with 252 points in nine clashes, an average of 28 markers.

Beery is hitting 40 per cent of his field goal attempts, canning 76 of 189. He has made 47 of 70 from the free throw line for 67 per cent.

A versatile athlete, he is Salem's candidate for All-Ohio honors.

BOB KING, WHO keeps improving with each game is the Quakers' number two scorer with 119 points.

A senior, the 6-5 athlete has been averaging 17 rebounds a game this season.

He is shooting a nifty 45.7 per cent, swishing the nets 48 times in 105 attempts. King has canned 23 of 44 free throws for 52 per cent.

GENERAL MANAGER Joe L. Brown of Pittsburgh Pirates predicts the 1963 squad will do better than the 1960 group that won the National League pennant and beat New York Yankees in the World Series.

The Pirates acquired pitchers Don Schwall and Don Cardwell, infielder Julio Gotay and outfielder Ted Savage during off-season trades.

To get the above personnel, Pittsburgh had to give up shortstop Dick Groat, first baseman Dick Stuart and third baseman Don Hoak.

Pittsburgh has six starting pitchers now. Besides Cardwell and Schwall there are Bob Friend, Al Gibson, Earl Francis and Joe Gibbon to call on.

And in the bull pen will be Roy Face, Harvey Haddix, Tom Sturdivant, Vernon Law, Bob Veale and Bob Priddy. Not bad huh?

HIGH SCHOOL and college coaches by the hundreds will converge on Pittsburgh Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 2-3, to take in the National Coach-of-the-Year Clinic.

Managed by Pete Dimperio, highly successful builder of championship Westinghouse Pittsburgh City League teams, the Clinic will present Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma; Bob Blackman, Dartmouth; Duffy Daugherty, Michigan State; Rip Engle, Penn State; Clarence Boston, New Hampshire; Bill Edwards, Wittenberg; and famed high school coach Tony Mason of Niles McKinley.

Mason will speak Sunday from 11 a.m. until noon on a program called "Building Champions in High School."

CHEVROLET...the Quality truck!

WALK AROUND IT. SEE THE DIFFERENCES.

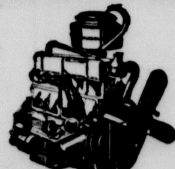

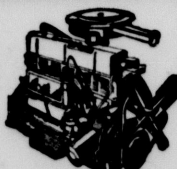

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two wedge latches keep it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and down on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't rattle or mar paint.

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You might dent the inside one but it won't show through. The floor will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double walled and the roof is insulated. Let's start 'er up and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver. There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. When would you like us to deliver it?

Don Andres

68-47, and knocked off the Quakers by eight 72-62.

Coach Joe Bassett, a veteran of 17 campaigns at Niles, posted his 200th victory last season. During his career as the Red Dragons mentor, Bassett has won three sectional titles, two district championships and one regional crown.

NILES MAY BE the only team during the last half to spot the Red and Black a slight height advantage.

The starting lineup for the Red Dragons is comprised of seniors. David Nestor is the tallest member of the quintet. A pivotman, he stands 6-4.

Forward Donald Andres, 6-0, is Niles' team captain, and its leading scorer with 97 points. He is also one of three lettermen on the squad.

At the other forward post is Robert Rein, who was halfback on the Red Dragon's unbeaten football team last year. He is 5-11 and weighs 180 pounds.

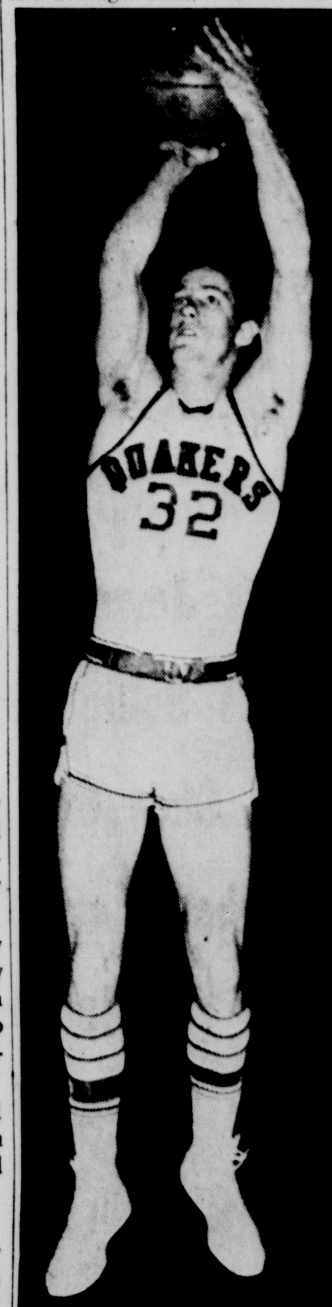

Tom James, 5-11, and Richard Leonard, 5-8, are the guards. Leonard is number two in the scoring column for Niles with 67 markers.

THE RED DRAGONS usually set up offensive patterns and work the ball with clever maneuvers while trying to set up for the good shot.

Niles has a press which may be as good or better than any the Salem aggregation has seen all season. The Red Dragons also use man-to-man and zone defenses.

Coach Cabas plans to start Bill Beery, 6-1, Bob King, 6-5, Marlin Waller, 6-0, Dave Capel 5-9 and Rick Platt 5-9.

The Houston Colts will play only six of their 29 spring exhibition games at Apache Junction, Ariz., their home base, in 1963.

Collier Says Browns Have Weaknesses

CLEVELAND (AP) — Blanton Collier, new head coach of the Cleveland Browns, says the club has some weaknesses, but that he hasn't had time to give much thought to personnel.

"We need big interior linemen, a big running back and good receivers," he said Wednesday after he was named to succeed Paul Brown, who had coached the team since it was organized in 1946. "It remains to be seen if we have enough on hand or if we have to do some trading."

Collier's appointment was announced at a news conference by Arthur B. Modell, Browns' president, who bought the National Football League club for $4 million in 1961.

Modell also announced that Harold Sauerbrei, a former Cleveland sportswriter, would succeed Brown as general manager. Sauerbrei, who has been with the Browns since 1954, has been serving as business manager of the club.

Collier announced that basically he plans to have the quarterback call the plays, a major change from the Brown regime. Brown's practice of sending in all the plays from the bench had been criticized by the fans and some of the Browns' quarterbacks.

Collier, 56, was promoted from backfield coach under a three-year contract at an unannounced salary.

Cincinnati Risks Streak Against Bradley Tonight

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Cincinnati moves into the lion's den tonight. The lion is worried. The top-ranked Bearcats, unbeaten in 31 basketball games dating back to the last time they stepped into Bradley's lair at Peoria, Ill., will be out to clip the lion's tail tonight and snap a five-year losing string at the Bradley home court.

"I think that Bradley can be beaten there," he said. "I've seen them beaten at Peoria. We have no fear or apprehension about it," said Cincinnati Assistant Coach Baker.

It'll be a tough Missouri Valley Conference test for Cincinnati, 13-0 this season and all-conquering since a 70-68 overtime loss to Bradley at Peoria, Jan. 10, last year. In five games over the last five years, the Bearcats have been unable to beat the Braves on their home floor.

One home court string went by the boards Wednesday night when Furman knocked off Virginia Tech 66-61 in a Southern Conference game, ending the Gobblers' 41-game home victory streak dating back to Feb. 7, 1958.

In other conference activity, North Carolina edged North Carolina State 67-65 in an Atlantic Coast game. Harvard defeated Dartmouth 59-55 in an Ivy League clash and Morehead beat Western Kentucky 87-71 in the Ohio Valley. Elsewhere, ninth-ranked West Virginia whipped Penn State 89-73, DePaul belted Notre Dame 83-69 and Louisville defeated Xavier, Ohio 75-66.

Russell Named MVP

East Clobbers West 115-108 In Pro All-Star Cage Game

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—The East congratulated itself with utmost justification today on its 115-108 victory over the West in the National Basketball Association's annual All-Star game.

Many called it an upset. But, the way things turned out, this was no upset. Someone just picked the wrong favorite. And it irritated the East something awful.

What happened was that Oscar Robertson, Bill Russell and a host of less renowned pros of the East simply ran, passed and scored the pantaloons off the West.

"I never had an easier game," said the East's coach, Red Auerbach.

The East opened the scoring on a basket by Tom Heinsohn of Auerbach's Boston Celtics and was never tied nor behind from there on.

At halftime it was 56-50, and the score was much closer than the contest. For example, 3 minutes and 20 seconds before that buzzer the West's great Elgin Baylor had scored his first and only field goal of the entire first half.

Robertson went on to lead the East in scoring with 21 points. Russell, who had 19, bottled up the West attack and won the Most-Valuable-Player award for the evening.

The shining light for the West was Bob Pettit, with a game high of 25 points. This was the veteran St. Louis Hawk's 10th All-Star game.

The thing that shocked the local boosters among the crowd of 14,838 was the frigid performance of Baylor and Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers.

Baylor sank but 4 out of 15 field goal attempts, and 9 of 13 free throws for a total of 17 points.

West hit on 5 out of 15 field goal tries and 3 out of 4 free shots for 13 points.

The West's coach, Fred Schaus of the Lakers, observed: "Bill Russell dominated both boards. We did a good job on Wilt Chamberlain."

Roberts Named Comeback Athlete Of Year In AP Poll

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Robin Roberts, who hit the end of the trail with the Philadelphia Phillies and then was dropped before he threw a pitch for the New York Yankees, was named today as the athlete who made the greatest comeback of the year 1962.

Roberts, who found new life with the Baltimore Orioles and wound up second in earned run averages in the American League, edged another baseball veteran who sprang back from a bleak campaign, Stan Musial, in the annual Associated Press poll.

The Oklahoma football team, bouncing back to an Orange Bowl berth, took third spot. The San Francisco Giants, given up for dead before they battled back to win the National League pennant in the last inning of the last playoff game, were voted fourth.

The University of Southern California Trojans, national football champions and leaders of a West Coast gridiron comeback, got the fifth spot.

Roberts gained 114 first place votes and a total of 506 points, based on a 3-2-1 point count, in the voting by 292 sports writers and sportscasters throughout the nation.

Musial was named at the top of 90 ballots, and had 418 points. Oklahoma was the top choice of 42 voters and got 368 points. The Giants and the Trojans had eight first place votes each, with San Francisco edging the collegians by 76 to 56 points.

Wittenberg Nips Dayton Squad 48-45

By The Associated Press
Wittenberg's Tigers have made a big bid for top ranking among the nation's smaller college basketball powers with a rousing 48-45 conquest of a good major team, Dayton.

The Tiger ace, Al Thrasher, simultaneously strengthened his chances for Little All-America recognition with perhaps his most brilliant in a string of brilliant performances.

Wittenberg's come-from-behind triumph on the Flyer floor, behind Thrasher's 26 points, highlighted a seven-game Ohio collegiate program Wednesday night. In the co-feature, Louisville bounced back from its Saturday overtime loss at Dayton by beating Xavier 75-66 at Cincinnati.

Denison clipped Wilmington 82-55, Findlay beat Bluffton 79-68, Defiance thumped winless Olivet (Mich.) 81-64, Ohio Northern lost a two-overtime heartbreaker at Eastern Michigan 89-88, and Rio Grande belted Bliss 97-51 to round out a slate devoid of conference matches.

The victory for third-ranked Wittenberg was its 11th in 12 decisions.

Thrasher, no giant at 6-foot-2, sparkled in rebounding and on defense against 6-10 Bill Westerkamp and 6-7 Hal Schoen besides sparking the offense.

Wittenberg trailed at halftime 27-22 but pulled into a 31-31 tie on a Thrasher basket. Including that goal, Thrasher scored 15 of the final 19 points for the Tigers.

he teams played without knowing during their game that Dayton freshman Tom Luppe, who collapsed in the preliminary UD frosh vs. Wright-Patterson AFB game, was dead.

Xavier (6-9) stayed on Louisville's heels until Musketeer star Bob Pelkington was lifted with four fouls. Then the Cardinals (6-6) stretched a 45-43 lead to 60-53 before Pelkington returned.

Multiplex Multiples

Throw Away That Old Radio

By WARD CANNEL

NEW YORK — (NEA)—Quick, folks, make room in the garage can. It is once again time to throw away last year's radio.

In little more than a year of commercial broadcast reception, the latest advance in absolute listening — multiplex — appears to have caught on.

to buy a new radio for it than And as usual it's a lot easier have the old one adapted.

Multiplex is a system for receiving stereophonic broadcasts. Stereo, of course, is a system for giving some of the sound to the right ear and some to the left, and letting the brain do the mixing.

IN MULTIPLEX broadcasting, the sound of a symphony, for example, is picked up by two microphones—one to the left and the other to the right of the orchestra. The sound is then transmitted over two FM radio channels. One channel carries the total sound of both microphones and can be received by last year's FM radio as old-fashioned, one - eared sound.

The other FM channel carries the separated sounds as they are picked up by the two microphones. And a multiplexer (whatever that is) in the new radio unscrambles the sounds and feeds them to right-ear and left-ear speakers to produce stereophonic sound.

Where FM (frequency modulation) relieved the ear of static, and where the transistor relieved the mind of solitude and thought, multiplex has brought civilization another giant step forward toward undivided attention.

In the short time since the National Stereophonic Committee of the radio industry approved a General Electric broadcast system, nearly 300 stereo stations have covered more than half the nation with two-eared sound.

HE STARTED IT: General Electric's Antal Csicsatka was one of the chief architects of stereo broadcasting.

By the end of the first year of production, the industry has sold some 700,000 sets. By the end of this year, another 1.2 million stereo radios are estimated to have been sold.

"EVEN PEOPLE WHO can't receive stereo broadcast yet are buying sets," reports a spokesman for Lafayette Radio Electronics Corp.

Stereo Review magazine says "the potential is enormous. FM alone was never widely accepted as an advertising medium because there were no networks. Stereo broadcast changes all that."

And why not. After all, a consumer who can trade himself up from a perfectly good $60 FM set to a $120 multiplex is capable of buying anything.

BUT JUST HOW LONG the multiplex set will last in the face of scientific advance is hard to say.

Doubtless, Harvard biologists will soon succeed in grafting a third ear onto a white mouse, shaking the very columns of stereo listening.

In New York, this reporter has seen with his own eyes a radio receiver so small that it can be — and has been — installed in a molar inlay.

The future is far from rosy.

Must Have Been a Bumpy Road Though

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — A woman motorist drove half a mile on a railroad track, then got stuck in a switch and delayed a 100-car freight train.

Mazie Wells of Burbank said she got on the tracks at a crossing Wednesday. A track supervisor saw her car jounce by at 25 miles an hour, followed by a freight train going in the same direction. He threw a switch that flagged down the train.

Police said the woman told them: "I thought this was a road." She was not cited.

SIKH 'EM — Determined-looking Indian soldier wearing traditional turban holds his automatic weapon at the ready during United Nations military operation in Katanga province, the Congo.

TWO DIE IN ACCIDENT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two back-seat occupants were killed in an automobile that had its entire right side sheared off when it hit a telephone pole at the west city limits Wednesday night. The three other occupants of the auto were slightly injured.

Killed were Harry Ream, 39, and Eva Horn, 46, both of Columbus. Police said they were filing second-degree manslaughter charges against Robert Starnier, 25, who was driving Ream's car.

BOY, 2½, KILLED

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Jerry Lee Spiker, 2, of Weirton, W. Va., was killed Wednesday when an earth - moving shovel slipped off a trailer and its boom ripped off the top of the car in which he was riding. His mother and 3-year-old brother were injured.

Bob Hope Christmas Show Is Annual Present From TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The Bob Hope Christmas show, arriving about three weeks after the holiday, has become a sort of annual delayed present from television.

This year Hope and his troupe (as usual consisting primarily of pretty girls like Lana Turner, Janis Paige and Anita Bryant) journeyed from an icy outpost on the North Korean border in sight of Red patrols to the sun-baked deck of the carrier Kitty Hawk, everywhere entertaining thousands of American servicemen.

Bits and pieces from many shows were edited into an hour-long program on NBC Wednesday night.

Hope rattled off his steady stream of wisecracks "inside" GI jokes and snide comment on everything from local weather to the top brass. The boys loved it all, particularly the girls. But for the home audiences, soldiers and sailors were the real stars of the show, as the cameras showed their young laughing faces.

Hope and his friends are nice people.

This week's episode of NBC's "Don't Call Me Charlie" is the show's swansong. "The Price Is Right" moves into the spot on Feb. 1. Last programs of the network's "Saints and Sinners" and "It's a Man's World" will be Jan. 28—and then come feature movies to fill the two hour hole followed by a new Art Linkletter effort.

Preliminary reports indicate that CBS' reshuffling of its Thursday and Friday night schedules has been successful—with both "The Nurses" and "Alfred Hitchcock Hour" picking up larger audiences in their new spots.

Recommended tonight: "The Quick and The Dead," ABC, 10-11 (Eastern Standard Time)—Ricardo Montalban and Anne Francis co-star in a drama about an ice-skater who learns he is going blind.

LITTLE LIZ

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Our Superior milk supervisor was in and told us we sold more milk than any other store they have. We have been pushing milk very hard. We believe Superior Dairy products are as good as the best and better than the rest. Superior milk has a very good flavor.

Superior is the the number one seller in the Canton area and is coming up fast around here.

We sell 3—1/2 gal. in glass for only 97c. This is a big savings to those raising a family.
